EDL*spy*

Trial Version Information

Thank you for downloading the trial version of EDL Spy! Please watch the short quick start tutorial video here:

http://www.vimeo.com/felixhuesken/edlspyquickstart and read the full version's user guide PDF, to familiarize yourself with the software's workflow and features.

Differences between the trial version and full version:

The trial version of EDL Spy contains several locked buttons and text fields, which are related to final output of file lists, copy-script export and special features. In the full version, all of those features are unlocked and text fields can be edited and copied/pasted freely.

In the trial version, the first screen titled "1: Get filenames from EDL" lets you do complete searches in an EDL or text list, like in the full version. However in the trial, you cannot access your search results freely.

The second screen "2: Search & consolidate files" lets you manually input a list of filenames (which usually comes from the Filename Extractor in the full version) and search for them on your harddrive. The copy-script that is being generated is invalidated though and cannot be saved/executed. In the full version, the copy-script works and you can even edit it, if you want to make special modifications.

The third screen lets you index folder contents, but you cannot export or edit the results in the trial version. The creation of directory structures is also completely disabled in the trial version.

Again, thank you very much for your interest in EDL Spy. If you have any questions, feel free to write me an e-mail.

IMPORTANT!

EDL Spy is currently in beta and distributed "as is", without any support or warranty. You agree to use EDL Spy at your own risk. I cannot be held responsible for any damage you might inflict to data or anything/anyone else by executing and using it. You may not distribute EDL Spy and/or this User Guide without prior written permission from myself.

You can contact me by sending an e-mail to: mail@felixhuesken.de